BILL-WILSON WEDDING IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Ceremony Takes Place at Boxwood Hall, County Home of Parents of Bride—Other June Weddings

One of the most brilliant weddings of the summer season was celebrated Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at "Boxwood Hall," the handsome country estate of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Davidson Wilson, when their daughter, Katharine Baker, became the bride of Colonel David Spencer Bill, of Spencer, "Boxwood Hall" is a beautiful place and formed an effective setting, decorated everywhere with trailing vines and fragrant flowers for the interesting ceremony which took place in the drawing-room, two large halls, library and dining-room were thrown into one for the occasion, and the walls were hung in English and Russian cedar, interspersed with huge plaques, sweet peas, shading from the most delicate pastel shades to a very deep pink and lavender. An aisle of broad blue ribbon ribboned from the front into the long drawing-room, where the ceremony took place, and the whole room was arranged with white blossoms against a background of green. The bay window was decorated with palms and lighted tapers, and a big heart of white flowers was suspended by a lover's knot of tulle over the fireplace. The bride wore a gown of white tulle, with a long train, and a large white bouquet. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Tucker, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, assisted by Rev. Cleveland Hall, D. D., of Danville. A string orchestra played the wedding march, and the service was very softly during the service "O Perfect Day."

The bride's wedding dress was an exquisitely simple affair of softest white tulle, made with a pointed train and trimmed in old Quaker lace. Her long tulle veil was arranged with orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a diamond necklace, the groom's gift. She carried a large bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley, with showers of lilies and orange blossoms caught with tulle. The bride's mother gave her daughter away. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Jefferson Penn, of Redwood, N. C., and the ushers included Messrs. William Hodges, Jr., of Richmond; Stafford Whitte, of Martinsville; William Clarke Spencer, of Danville, cousin of the groom; James Williamson Spencer, of Martinsville. The maid of honor was Miss James Blackwood, of Washington, a cousin of the bride, and she wore a French gown of yellow silk crepe and a short bouquet of white lilies. The bridesmaids included Miss Mary Virginia Wilson, sister of the bride, dressed in pink tulle, and Miss Mary Blackwood, of Washington, sister of the bride, in a lavender gown, with a nosegay of lavender sweet peas. The groom's best man was Mr. William Hodges, Jr., of Richmond, in a green gown and carrying a shower bouquet of shaded flowers, tied with pale green ribbons.

The bride's mother wore her own wedding gown, yellowed with age, and carried a bouquet of orchids, and Mrs. M. Buchanan, aunt of the groom, was handsomely gowned in black satin and lace, with a big bouquet of Richmond roses. They assisted the bride party in receiving the guests at the reception held immediately after the ceremony, and Mr. Edward Bryan Templeman, of Chicago, Ill., assisted by Miss Mary Saunders Watkins, of Spencer, met the guests at the library door, where the receiving party was held. The bride's mother, Mrs. John William Brown, both of Clarksville, Va., and aunt of the bride, John P. Smith, of Martinsville, acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Matt Wilson, of Mexico, uncle of the bride, Francis W. Wozensaw, of Dallas, Texas; Edward Tiffin Cook, of Chillicothe, Ohio, assisted him.

A special train from Danville brought a large company of distinguished guests out to Spencer for the wedding, and George O. Spencer, uncle of the groom, and Peter Watkins, of Spencer, assisted in seating the guests in the drawing-room and in the dining-room. The bride and groom were seated in the drawing-room, and the bride's mother, Mrs. John William Brown, both of Clarksville, Va., and aunt of the bride, John P. Smith, of Martinsville, acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Matt Wilson, of Mexico, uncle of the bride, Francis W. Wozensaw, of Dallas, Texas; Edward Tiffin Cook, of Chillicothe, Ohio, assisted him.

guerites and palms. The mantels were banked with these flowers and the hall was a veritable bower of daisies, lilies, and ferns, the ballustrade of the staircase being wound with Southern starfuchs. An altar was arranged in the bay window of ferns and fragrant lilies and a stringed orchestra, hidden by ferns and palms, rendered the wedding march.

The bride entered with her mother, who gave her away. Her costume was fashioned of white pussy-willow tulle, and she wore a long veil of pearls, and her long veil of illusion was caught up fashion, with a wreath of orange blossoms. The veil fell to the hem of the long court train, and the flowers being arranged in a tall basket. Some of the guests from a distance present were Mrs. Isaac Well, of Rochester, N. Y., the groom's mother; Mrs. J. H. Tucker, D. D., of Danville; Judge M. J. Block, of Baltimore; Nathaniel Well, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Julius H. Wyman, of Baltimore; Mrs. S. S. Kiskisom, and son, of Dayton, O.; Mrs. William Ullman, of Philadelphia, and others.

Following a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Well will make their home in Chicago. The Rev. Dr. J. H. Tucker, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, assisted by Rev. Cleveland Hall, D. D., of Danville, a stringed orchestra played the wedding march, and the service was very softly during the service "O Perfect Day."

DR. MYRON T. SCUDDER VISITS RICHMOND TO-DAY

Founder of Playground Association on His Way to Charlottesville Summer School

Dr. Myron T. Scudder, New York, founder of the Playground Association of America, who is well-known in Richmond, is expected to arrive here to-day, and will be a guest at the Jefferson Hotel. He is on his way to the University of Virginia summer school, where his work for the past four years has won him more than a State-wide reputation.

Scudder is well-known in Virginia. His educational theories, largely through his writings, but principally through his labors at Charlottesville. He has lectured in many States on the social and physical importance of play and recreation, and was author of a portion of the bulletin, "Play and Athletics for Virginia Public Schools," which was published last year by the State Department of Public Instruction. Professor Scudder, who is proprietor of the Scudder School for girls, New York, is an authority upon the subject of rural schools. He is also prominent as a lecturer on the "Montessori Method."

Dibrell-Glass. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Durham, N. C., June 18.—A beautiful church wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock in Trinity Methodist Church, Rev. R. C. Craven officiating. It was the marriage of Miss Louise Glass, eldest daughter of Mrs. R. A. Glass, of this city, and Charles T. Dibrell, of Danville, Va. The groomsmen were Wellington and Fuller Glass, brothers of the bride; T. C. Worth and Sam Sparger. The bridesmaids were Miss Anna Coble and Miss P. Farish. Miss Louise Glass, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Lyman Williamson, of Graham, was dame of honor.

Keene-Hughes. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Ashland, Va., June 18.—A marriage of unusual social interest took place here to-day at 8 o'clock in the Ashland Presbyterian Church, when Miss Martha Drewry Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Hughes, became the wife of Rev. James Spottwood Keene, of the Baltimore Conference, of Frederickburg.

The church was beautifully decorated the altar being banked with palms and greens and adorned with candles. Dr. Hall Cantos played the wedding music. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sara Venable Hughes, as maid of honor, who has lovely blonde green crepe, accented with white tulle. James Hughes was best man, and the ushers included Frank L. Hughes, Virginia Hoofnagle, S. B. Wooding, Jr., H. Drewry Kerr and William Lancaster.

The bride entered with her father, and wore a handsome creation of tulle, dotted crepe net, embroidered and pearl trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The only ornaments were emeralds and pearls worn by both her mother and grandmother. The bride's father, Mr. J. H. Hughes, was a great-grandfather of the bride, for whom she is named. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. William D. Keene, brother of the bride, assisted by Dr. Thomas R. Engle, of Union Theological Seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Keene left on the 3 o'clock train for a Northern trip, after which they will be at home at Royal Oak, Md. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. O. Bertrand, Misses Drewry, of Richmond; Miss Mary Drewry, of Centralia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engle, of Richmond, left Tuesday for Harrisonburg, and will be guests several days of their sister, Mrs. Lawrence Lowmeyer, on High Street. They were met in Staunton by Mrs. Lowmeyer and her sister-in-law, Miss Pearl Lowmeyer.

Perron-Johnson. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., June 18.—Yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Elliott, 1507 Jackson Street, her niece, Mrs. P. Johnson, was married to Dr. P. Johnson, a prominent practicing physician here. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Wallace T. Palmer, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her father, Dr. P. Johnson, of Farmville. Mrs. Perron has been teaching school here for several years. After a month's bridal trip Dr. and Mrs. Perron will reside on Church Street here.

Invitations Received. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., June 18.—Invitations have been received here to the approaching wedding of Miss Allen Louise Jackson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George W. Jackson, of Lenoir City, Tenn., to George Septimus Evans, which is to be celebrated at the Methodist Church in that place on the evening of June 30. The prospective groom is a son of Dr. T. W. Evans, of Concord, and a brother of Dr. Harman Evans, of this city.

Probably Fatally Injured. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., June 18.—While operating a sawmill George Snyder, twenty-one years old and unmarried, was probably fatally injured when a piece of lumber was caught on the saw and hurled against his face, breaking his right jawbone and producing concussion of the brain. He and his partner, James Ray, were at work near Hawley Springs, in North Mountain, about seventeen miles west of Harrisonburg. He was brought to the Harrisonburg Hospital.

Maximum Age Limit Reduced. Washington, June 18.—President Wilson to-day issued an executive order reducing from sixty to fifty years the maximum age limit for admission to civil service examinations for appointment of unskilled laborers in Federal offices outside of Washington. Veterans, however, may continue to be examined without regard to their age.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition All Summer It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beneficial. Ordinary mercurials will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes the cause of skin troubles. It is constantly used by the best of the world's beauty. It does more toward perpetuating youthfulness than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. It is made of mercurials, which are available at any drug store. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. It is better than a face bath because it dissolves the dirt and grime in the pores of the face. Advertisement.

RICHMOND GETS NEXT CONVENTION OF EAGLES

State Aerie Concludes Business at Newport News, and is Devoting Itself to Pleasure.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Newport News, Va., June 18.—With the election of officers for the coming year, and the selection of Richmond as the place for holding of the 1915 convention, the State Aerie of Eagles concluded the business attendant upon its ninth annual session this afternoon. The officers elected and installed to-day by Past Worthy President B. J. O'Hara were:

President, Richard J. Davis, Portsmouth; vice-president, John W. Moore, Richmond; vice-president, E. W. Peaco, Staunton; chaplain, James J. Cherry, Newport News; conductor, John W. Carmody, of Hampton; secretary, Hunt Green, Staunton; treasurer, Joe T. Brown, Petersburg; state inside guard, J. E. Henley, Norfolk; outside guard, E. H. Clark, Suffolk; trustee, J. J. Johnson, Staunton. Representatives to grand aerie, John W. Moore, Richmond, and Moses Miller, Hampton.

After the business session a baseball game was played at Herndon Park for the Eagles between the Port Monroe team and the Norfolk Naval Hospital team, and this was followed with a crab feast at the Point of Pines.

The annual street parade was held to-night, and was one of the largest processions ever seen here. Many floats were entered by local merchants, and the season will spend the day visiting points of interest in and about this city, and in inspecting the shipyard.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES MEET IN BEDFORD CITY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Bedford City, June 18.—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Lynchburg district of the Methodist Church, convened for conference in the Methodist church at Bedford City on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. E. E. Moore, of the district secretary, presided. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. A. W. Scott, the retiring district secretary. Thirty-one auxiliary societies responded to the roll call, with representatives present. Fifteen had no delegates. Interesting reports were made of their work.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. J. J. Scott, on behalf of the local auxiliary, and Miss M. B. Bowser, for the young people's and Miss Anita Recker for the Juniors, to which response was made by Mrs. J. A. Mathew, of Forest, and Mrs. J. W. Wise. The State home mission treasurer reported finances amounting to $4,240.78 for the Furcon School, a mountain mission.

An appeal was made for a superintendent for this school. Mrs. W. P. Hardy offered her services. She is a woman of comfortable means, with an attractive home, but is giving her services as an offering to this work.

Mrs. A. W. Northing, the State treasurer of foreign missions, made an appeal for $750 from the Lynchburg and Farmville districts for the support of Miss Kennedy.

A very interesting meeting was held in the morning, when an address was made on social work by Deaconess Morton, who for years conducted such work in the city. The State home mission treasurer reported finances amounting to $4,240.78 for the Furcon School, a mountain mission.

The delegates all were entertained in the homes of members of the church, with private automobiles to carry them to and from the church. A delightful luncheon was served each day in the Sunday school annex of the church. The conference closed this afternoon.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DENOUNCES TRAFFIC IN INTOXICANTS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Wilmington, N. C., June 18.—The State Epworth League, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at its annual convention here, devoted the day to listening to addresses. The principal one was delivered by Rev. R.
